A. KEY QUESTIONS

How long is my plan for?

Your plan will continue for the period specified on your plan schedule. You have certain rights to cancel your plan, and these are set out below. Our cancellation rights are also set out below and in the General Conditions section.

How can I cancel my plan?

If you wish to cancel your plan; you (as the named plan holder) or an authorised representative, must contact us by calling the customer service number or writing to us at our freepost address. The cancellation period for your plan is shown on your plan schedule and includes the statutory 14 day cancellation period which commences on the start date of your plan.

You may cancel your plan at anytime. Depending whether you have received the service(s) provided under this plan, any refund of the service fee paid to you or owed by you may be calculated as follows:

- We will refund any amount of the service fee you have paid as long as no work has been performed under this agreement.
- If work has been performed under this agreement, you will waive any statutory right to cancel the plan and you will not receive a refund and must pay any remaining outstanding balance due under the agreement.
- If we have been unable to contact you to arrange an appointment. We will make three attempts to contact you to make an appointment after which you there will be no refund. However you can still contact us to arrange for the appointment within the remaining period of your plan.

How can HomeServe cancel my plan?

HomeServe reserves the right to cancel your Gas Boiler Service Plan prior to the service being carried out, by giving you at least 7 days' notice at your last known address. In these circumstances HomeServe will refund the amount of the service fee paid in full.

What if I miss a payment?

If you fail to make a payment of the service fee on the due date, your plan may be suspended and you will not be entitled to any services offered under this plan until you have made the payment due. HomeServe will notify you in writing within 5 working days of the date on which this payment was due. If you do not pay the requested amount within 30 days of the due date, your plan will be cancelled. You will remain liable for any due and outstanding payment for the period up to the date of cancellation.

What if I move home?

You are responsible for informing HomeServe of a change of your address so that your plan can be transferred to your new property. Please phone us on the customer services number or write to HomeServe at the Freepost address, to advise us of your new address. We will check with you whether your boiler in your new property is acceptable before it is transferred, based on whether the boiler at your new property (see the definition of boiler) and the property is eligible (see the property eligibility section below). If it is not acceptable you may cancel your plan as set out under the heading 'How can my plan be cancelled?' in this section.

What happens next year?

HomeServe will contact you in writing before your plan expires to offer you the opportunity to a arrange plan for the following year. At the same time we will review your service fee and advise you of the amount for the following year. We reserve the right to adjust your service fee to reflect any changes in the rate of tax applicable to it. HomeServe reserves the right to refuse to offer you any individual plan in the following year and we will inform you before your plan expires if we choose to do so.

How can I complain?
